

PROFILE

John Pompeii

/ Partner, Technology Services

John brings a unique blend of extensive technology and engineering experience along with strong entrepreneurial and senior management skills. He has worked with clients in a large variety of industries including financial services, manufacturing, information technology, and pharmaceuticals. He has successfully developed a number of large-scale software projects, commercial products, strategic architectures, and technology development organizations. John is a competent consultant, technical architect, developer, team leader, team builder, and business manager.

technology competencies

Software/systems architecture, SOA, Java, J2EE, .Net, e-Commerce, web technologies, Unified/Agile methodologies, UML modeling, systems integration, data management, security, rule-based systems, workflow, biotechnology, and electronics.

representative clients

Safeguard Properties, i2, Procter and Gamble, Bayer Pharmaceuticals, Chicago Mercantile Exchange, United Bank of Switzerland

brilliant moment / skiing "Bouldergash", a ski run in the Selkirk Mountains of British Columbia (accessible only by helicopter)...its name says it all client snapshots

/ Design and development of a large-scale ERP system supporting the operations of a distributed services-broker business model using .NET, SOA, and Web 2.0 technologies.

/ Design and development of a financial portfolio analysis system utilizing Sybase, statistical analytics, and web reporting technologies.

/ Led the design and development of a sophisticated data management and knowledge management infrastructure for scientific assay and genomic data analysis.

/ Designed and developed message-based integration and security systems for a large-scale e-commerce system.

/ Developed the architecture and implementation of a real-time tablet-based commodity trading system.

experience

Xteric Technology Group – CTO

Senior technical architect assisting in a wide variety technology projects and developing the skills of the technical staff.

Acero – Founder and CTO

Lead architect for a sophisticated genomics data analysis platform.

Secant Technologies – Founder and CTO

Inventor and principal designer of the Secant J2EE application server and related product family.